Experience

UX Design Consultant, Product Owner

Novo Nordisk Engineering:

June 2023- present

Researching, facilitating, and designing intuitive user experiences across the Novo Nordisk ecosystem. I typically manage 1-3 projects at a time, with project needs spanning from initial product ideation to final usability testing. I have pitched projects valued at 630.000 DKK; here, my role was critical in synchronizing engineering capabilities with business goals. I have experience working with developers, advocating for design best practices, and leading full-week design sprints for teams with 7+ members. Currently the PO for the Virtual Reality team. My favorite days are spent onsite, solving problems to make people's lives brighter.
